This is my story

"Tadhg was born with albinism, which has severely reduced his vision. NCBI's Early Learning Centre has taught Tadhg how to use his limited vision.

He would not be the happy, confident little boy he is today without the help of NCBI. We, as a family, are forever grateful for the outstanding work NCBI does."

Laura Ratcliffe, Tadhg's mother

NCBI is the leading charity working for the rising number of people with sight loss.

When people are dealing with the darkness of sight loss - unsure of what the future holds and uncertain of how to regain their independence - NCBI is there.

We provide practical and emotional support to help people with sight loss face their futures with confidence.

There are currently 224,000 people with impaired vision in Ireland and this will rise to 276,000 by 2020.

As a charity, NCBI must raise €3 million annually just to keep operating at our current levels. That equates to €4 out of every €10 we spend on vital services.

We cannot do this without your support.

Please make an inspiring gift today to NCBI. Thank you.
